

Bigger And Better Fair This Year

95th Saanich Fair Opens On Saturday

As Saanich Fair comes within five years of marking its first century, the displays and range of exhibits is steadily rising. When the fair is formally opened at 1.30 p.m. on Saturday it will set into motion an exhibition beyond any seen in past years. As the sponsoring North and South Saanich Agricultural Society launches this culmination of months of planning, anxious eyes will scan the clouds seeking the fine weather that will make the 95th Fall Exhibition the topmost show in 95 years.

One of the leading attractions at the fair, the horse classes, will be presented for three days in a row at the week-end.

On opening day, Saturday, Aug. 31, the western riding events will be run off, commencing at 1.30 p.m., with preliminary judging starting at 10 a.m.

There will be eight events in the western horse section with the top event, in terms of prize money, the clover leaf barrel race.

On Saturday afternoon the junior events will be run off. Nine events will be offered. In most cases first place will bring a trophy, with prizes for second and third and a ribbon for fourth place.

Final presentation in the horse classes will get under way at 10 a.m. on Labor Day, with the breeding and halter classes, while the English riding events will commence at 1.30 p.m.

The horse riding events have been a major attraction at Saanich Fair for a substantial part of its 95-year history.

Feature breed at Saanich Fair this year in the cattle sections is the Jersey.

Each year the fair features one specific breed, in order to give adequate prominence to each of the popular breeds in the district.

With six separate breeds, the cattle section includes a large area of the fair, as well as a large area within the fair grounds.

Augmenting the cattle sections are the extensive entries from 4H groups also showing cattle.

Many exhibitors will come to Saanich Fair straight from the P.N.E. and other coastal agricultural fairs.

Traditional link with the past in any agricultural community is the display of livestock. Accompanying the cattle will be showing of sheep, swine and goats.

Also included in livestock, although traditionally an enemy of the farmer, rather than his charge, is the rabbit. The rabbit section has grown steadily in recent years to become a significant part of the display, particularly for small children.

Poultry section is distinct from the other livestock in one degree. While animals are shown with their young, the poultry exhibits are completely

Traditionally linked with Saanich Fair is the Highland Dancing display offered in the centre of the fair grounds, adjacent to the Log Cabin

MIDWAY UNDER DIRECTION OF ROTARY CLUB

Largest single area at Saanich Fair is taken up with the midway and entertainments. For several years Sidney Rotary Club has been responsible for concessions. This year will see no change and the midway will continue to draw large crowds to compete in skill and fortune.

The Rotary Club has developed considerable equipment during the passage of the years and booths are of permanent wood construction.

Added feature this year is the pavilion to be used for bingo and for storage of equipment during the remainder of the year.

Museum of the Saanich Pioneer Society.

The Highland events bring the colorful Scottish dances and brilliant costumes of the participants.

This section has always drawn a large crowd and the follower of the bagpipes will sit through the display for several hours to gain the full atmosphere of the highland scene.

The program opens at 11 a.m. on Labor Day and continues through the afternoon.

To the Sassenach the tune of the bagpipes and the grace of the dancers compensate for his inability to pronounce the names of some of the dances.

Ranging from under seven years of age to 16, the contestants spend hours every week practicing for the annual dancing competitions.

Summer School Threat

Summer school in the Greater Victoria School District is likely to be discontinued, trustees of Saanich School District were informed on Monday evening.

Trustee Lewis Harvey told his colleagues that the attendance at summer school in the city had fallen off steadily in recent years and that the school district was now contemplating the elimination of the programme.

Reports which were circulated earlier in the year that the courses would not be open to students from outside districts had not contributed to the success of the courses this year, suggested Chairman Reginald Sinkinson.

Trustee's Plea For Aid To Private Schools Rejected

Plea for assistance for private schools and separate schools sounded by Trustee Lewis Harvey on Monday failed to gain support. Mr. Harvey told his fellow trustees of Saanich School District that parents of students attending private schools were paying two taxes.

Two trustees were prompt in their response.

"That is my business if I want to send my children to a private school," replied A. G. Campbell. Mrs. J. M. Thomas felt that such a policy would be "very dangerous."

The question arose when trustees were invited to express an opinion on a resolution prepared for the coming convention of B.C. School Trustees' Association in which supervision of private schools would be required of a school district.

Mr. Harvey asked the board to support a request to the government for support of private schools.

TO MAINLAND

Islands Second Ferry

—At Once

Second ferry connecting the Gulf Islands with the mainland is to be constructed. It will be the second mainland link for the Islands; the sixth vessel serving the islands and the 19th to join the fleet of the B.C. Ferry Authority.

Construction of the new ferry was announced on Tuesday by Recreation Minister E. C. Westwood. The new car-passenger ferry will join the Queen of the Islands, which inaugurated the Gulf Islands-Tsawwassen run on July 4 this year.

"The response to the Queen of the Islands has been enthusiastic beyond all expectations," said Mr. Westwood, M.L.A. for the Islands and Nanaimo.

He said the B.C. Ferry Authority is proceeding immediately with the preparation of plans and specifications for the new ferry so that tenders may be called at the earliest possible time.

Provincial ferries link Vancouver Island with the mainland via Swartz Bay and Nanaimo in addition to the services to the Gulf Islands and to Sechart Peninsula and Powell River.

Chatterton Named Delegate To Conference In Belgrade

—Inter-Parliamentary Union

Contrary to his expectation, Esquimalt-Saanich M.P. George L. Chatterton will have little opportunity of visiting in his constituency during the parliamentary recess.

He has been selected as one of six members of the federal parliament to attend the 52nd annual conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Yugoslavia next month. Delegates will fly from Ottawa to Belgrade by RCAF plane in time for the opening session of the conference on September 9, and discussions will continue until September 24. It is expected that the return flight will allow delegates to be in attendance when parliamentary sessions recommence in Ottawa on September 30.

Mr. Chatterton said that he had planned many visits in the constituency during the recess, and he hopes that the reason for his absence will be generally known and fully understood. In the circumstances, he suggests that those with problems and matters requiring attention will write to him.

Appreciative of the honor of selection as one of the two Conservative nominees, Mr. Chatterton said that in view of the importance of international affairs

Are You On Voters' List?

REGISTER BY SATURDAY OR NO VOTE

Are you on the voters' list? Do you plan to cast your ballot in the provincial general election called for September 30?

All voters who voted in the 1960 provincial election and whose place of residence is unchanged are automatically listed on the current voters' list. Those who were residing elsewhere or who have reached the age of 19 in the meantime must take action, themselves, to be listed.

Registration may be undertaken at any one of a series of centres throughout the electoral districts.

If you are uncertain or if you have any reason to believe that your name is not on the list call the registrar in your district and ascertain. Any reader who is not sure and who has no information as to where he should enquire should call the office of The Review at 475-1151.

If the question is not settled by Saturday you have forfeited your vote. Only you can establish your right to vote.

Political Groups Here In Rush To Nominate For Sept. 30

—Meetings Start Tuesday

Snap election called for September 30 has set supporters of every party scurrying to prepare an unexpected campaign. Premier W. A. C. Bennett's sudden announcement last week of the general election had not been anticipated even by his own government.

Two parties have already set plans for nominations. On Wednesday evening next week Saanich Liberals will nominate a candidate. They will assemble in St. Mark's church hall, Obed Ave.

The same evening will see Saanich New Democrats meet for nomination. The N.D.P. meeting will take place in the Douglas Hall.

On Wednesday evening this week Esquimalt-Saanich Progressive Conservative Association will call its executive together to set plans for a nomination meeting.

Saanich Social Credit Association will meet in Lake Hill Hall on Tuesday evening next week to nominate a candidate. Incumbent John Tisdale will seek to retain his seat through the nomination meeting.

Only other name so far mentioned in connection with the election here is that of John Windsor, blind veteran and author of Brentwood. His name has been mooted as a candidate for the New Democrats.

COMMUNISTS? No mention has been made of a Communist candidate, although a Communist did contest the election in 1960.

Islands candidates will be named at meetings in Nanaimo next week. No name other than that of Recreation Minister E. C. Westwood has been mentioned.

This week registrations for the voters' lists are being made and all voters should ascertain before Saturday that they are listed. Those who fail to register by Saturday afternoon will be ineligible to cast a ballot in the election.

Workmen Tackle Heavy Job — Attempt To Lift Mars

At Patricia Bay Airport on Wednesday morning, workmen of Henney Cartage and Storage Ltd., Victoria, commenced one of the biggest jobs they have ever tackled. A crew of about eight men with trucks and three huge cranes were engaged in an attempt to lift the giant Mars aircraft which was blown over last fall by a heavy gale.

The three cranes are each capable of lifting 25 tons. The aircraft weighs approximately 45 tons.

If possible the seaplane will be placed on wheels so it may be taken across the airport to the Fairley Aviation Co. plant for repairs.

The four giant Mars aircraft brought to Patricia Bay Airport several years ago to be converted for aerial water bombers to combat forest fire have had a sad history. The first plane to be converted for fire-fighting crashed into a hillside on Vancouver Island shortly after it went into operation. All three men aboard were killed.

A second Mars was converted and this is still in service, flying from Spruce Lake. Last fall the Mars presently occupying attention broke loose from its moorings on the north side of the airport and suffered considerable damage. The fourth aircraft is still tied down at the airport.

TWO NOT COMPLETED

Schools Ready For New Academic Year

School buildings in Saanich School District are ready for the new term.

On Tuesday morning next week students and staffs will enter their classrooms for the opening of a new year. Many of the classrooms will be newly painted and modifications to buildings and grounds have been made during the summer months.

On Monday evening trustees were told of various projects now completed.

Covered play area at Deep Cove school is now ready for use as is the covered walk area at Mount Newton Junior secondary school.

This latter provision was warmly praised by the trustees for its improvement to the aesthetic appeal of the school.

"It is a very attractive addition," commented Chairman Reginald Sinkinson.

NEARING READINESS

Two schools are nearing readiness, although they will not be available for use at the opening of the school term. They are Durran Road and Lochside Drive schools.

The Lochside Drive school job is being speeded up, it was noted. The school is located at the intersection of Royal Oak Ave. and What? Not A Witch?

Trustee Lewis Harvey, of Saanich School District does not believe in witchcraft. Chairman Reginald Sinkinson does.

The revelation was made when trustees were discussing water problems at Durran Road school site.

"I have no room for these 'witches'" observed Mr. Harvey. "they are no more than the kind that flew around on broomsticks."

"I don't agree with you," noted Mr. Sinkinson, but the subject was not pursued when he turned the discussion into a new item of business.

NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Watling and family have recently moved from McTavish Road to take up residence in their new home on Weiler Ave.

Celebrates 96th Birthday

Within four years of her 100th birthday is Mrs. J. B. Wallace, of Salt Spring Island. Marking her 96th birthday on August 15, Mrs. Wallace is seen with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Holloman. Native daughter of Salt Spring Island, Mrs. Wallace is the daughter of the late Louis and Sylvia Stark, who came here from the United States in 1900. Longevity is a family trait. Mrs. Wallace's mother lived to the age of 112. The nonagenarian is still active and alert.

New Proprietor Of Motel Is Back In Old Familiar Field

New proprietor of a long-established resort in Sidney is already making plans for development of the facilities.

Planner in Ted Robinson who recently acquired the Cedarwood Motel on Lochside Drive from G. D. Prizzell. With Mrs. Robinson he will continue the operation of the motel.

Latterly in the fuel business on the mainland, Mr. Robinson is returning to an old love. His parents were associated with the tourist business for many years when they operated the Cowichan Inn at Cowichan Bay.

Mr. Robinson left Cowichan Bay to enlist with the Canadian armed forces at the outbreak of the Second World War. He was in the Royal Canadian Artillery, serving overseas during the war. Upon his return home at the close of hostilities he was with the reserve army for a time, commanding a unit on the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and their family have already taken

PERMITS FOR $61,120 IN JULY

Four new dwellings at a total estimated cost of $47,400 were undertaken in North Saanich Community Planning Area during the month of July. Permits for these dwellings were issued by W. R. Cannon, building inspector for the area.

These permits are among the 15 permits issued during the month with a total value of $61,120. An addition to a barn amounted to $8,000, while an addition to a dwelling represented another $3,000. Implement shed at $2,000 and a garage at $750 completes the list.

Remaining permits issued during the month represent plumbing and other subsidiary projects.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Potatoes Hold The Answer

The following story was told by Dr. William Newton of the Saanich Experimental Station, at a recent banquet staged by the potato growers of the Saanich Peninsula:

"I hear that a prominent historian at the University of Victoria has made an important discovery. He has found that persons or peoples must eat potatoes to become great. The proof appears to be beyond dispute.

"The Indians and Eskimos of Canada and the United States did not eat the common potato and as a result they remained a primitive people, but the Indians further south of the same origin cultivated and consumed the potato in vast quantities. As a consequence they built vast and beautiful cities, created lovely pottery and attractive gold and silver jewelry and other ornaments. This great Maya Indian civilization is being intensively studied today by architects, artists and engineers who marvel at the Maya Indians' skill and ingenuity.

GREATER SKILL

"Even greater skill in architecture, engineering and art was exhibited by the Indians of South America in Peru, a civilization nourished largely by potatoes. Students of the origin of the cultivated plants consider that Peru was the origin of the cultivated potato. The potato was held in such high esteem by the Indians of the great Inca civilization of Peru, they used illustrations of the potato and the potato plant as the motive on a great amount of their lovely pottery.

"Just as the potato growers of British Columbia have found, the Indians of the Inca civilization found that their potato crops when grown under irrigation were highly profitable. Students of irrigation are gaining much useful information by studying the remains of the intricate irrigation systems of the Incas in the mountains of Peru.

ADDED PROOF

"The history of Great Britain is added proof that greatness depends upon potato consumption. Prior to the introduction of potatoes into England by Sir Walter Raleigh, the country suffered grievous defeats. England was conquered by the Romans, the Saxons, and the Normans. The situation quickly changed through Sir Walter's foresight. After the people started to eat potatoes the Spanish Armada met its first major defeat. Britannia quickly established herself as the ruler of the waves.

"The mighty British Empire came into existence with the advent of the introduction and consumption of potatoes. It is not surprising that so many of the great military and naval leaders were Irishmen, for in Ireland more so than in any other part of Great Britain, the potato was the mainstay of the diet."

PENSIONERS' MEETING

Gay Musical Is Brought To Gem Theatre's Screen

"State Fair", a modern and tuneful movie with a host of bright new stars will be shown at the Gem Theatre in Sidney, this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Featured in this sparkling movie are Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Ann-Margaret, Tom Ewell and Alice Faye.

Music and lyrics for State Fair have come from the pens of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, the men who wrote "Oklahoma", "The Sound of Music", "South Pacific" and "The King and I".

After the gay excitement of State Fair, the Gem will present David Niven and Sordi in the comedy, "The Best of Enemies".

Niven once again is playing a soldier, a British career officer caught in the backwash of World War II in the Abyssinian Desert. Sordi plays a slovenly, resourceful Italian officer in this saga of a forgotten war, which is said to be told in wondrously witty fashion. Suff with British punctilio and spit and polish, Niven is contemptuous of the unprofessional soldiering and appearance of the more informal Sordi. As personalities and national types, they clash; as the fortunes of war shift causing each to become the prisoner of the other their contempt one for the other subtly gives way to grudging respect and mutual admiration. "The Best of Enemies" will be shown at the Gem next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

separate from their eggs. The latter are displayed in the main exhibition hall.

Poultry and game birds boast one of the largest sections for live exhibits in terms of classes. The section also includes pigeons.

STATIC DISPLAYS

Hall, which has been steadily expanded and improved, will house the static displays of garden produce and household arts. Exhibits range from fruit and vegetables to needlework and painting. Popularity of these displays has been such in past years as to necessitate a major increase in accommodation within the hall.

Attention of the visitor is focussed on the main hall through the course of the fair. Standards have been high for many years and the display draws an enthusiastic crowd, year after year.

Top award within the hall is the Michell-Turgoose Challenge Cup. Donated by the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Michell, it was established in commemoration of the two pioneer families who took an active part in the affairs of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society in the 1860's. It is awarded to the exhibitor gaining the highest number of points within the main hall. Held for a year, it is replaced at the time of the next fair by a miniature.

JUNIOR SHOW

Junior exhibitors are prominent in the main hall and displays of handicraft, floral arrangements, photography and art are submitted by a large group of youthful exhibitors.

The junior contestants are also represented in large numbers throughout the 4-H sections. Popular with youthful visitors to the fair are the caged birds centred on the exhibits arranged by the Vancouver Island Budgerigar Society, the section includes various breeds as the number of entries may warrant.

Youthful visitors are also active investigators of the various tractors and equipment on display in the commercial exhibits section. Almost every machinery dealer on Vancouver Island is represented among the colorful display of equipment. At times almost every small boy on Vancouver Island is to be found testing and examining the exhibits.

DOG SCHOOL HERE

May I suggest that you consider taking your pet to the Dog School at Sanscha, there is no doubt that "a trained dog is a well-adjusted happy dog." It is really remarkable how much dogs—unlike children—really enjoy going to school—it doesn't take a dog a couple of years past graduation to realize that schooling can be enjoyable. To register for the classes it is not necessary to bring your dog on Tuesday evening, handlers will be given preliminary instruction but the actual dog training will start on Thursday the fifth.

Brentwood Ladies Winners At P.N.E.

A Brentwood Bay woman has taken two first prizes in dressed doll competitions at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver this year.

Mrs. Alfred Aldridge, 1021 Sluggert Road, placed first in Class One and Class Two of the dressed doll contest, in the Home Arts-Textiles division.

In the same division, the Brentwood Bay Women's Institute placed second in the Thrift class.

It's A Dog's Life

-Canine Notes-
By Malemute

September marks the resumption for dogs as well as people of activities that were suspended for the summer months. Just as school reconvenes for our children so it does for our pets, as the children are being outfitted with clothes for the new school year so the dogs are being groomed for the coming shows.

Four dates next week are marked off on the Kennel Calendar, Sept. 3rd, 5th, 6th, and 7th. Tuesday is registration day for the North Saanich Dog Obedience Training classes—Sanscha at 8 p.m. Thursday the actual instruction commences at 7:30, also at Sanscha. Friday and Saturday are the days for the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers fall Championship Dog Shows at the Victoria Curling Rink.

The fall shows of the V.I.D.F.A. have always attracted a large entry of dogs from adjacent States and Provinces. This gives us the chance to see breeds of dogs that are rare anywhere and non-existent locally. As one example there will be five Salukis at the forthcoming shows, four from the States and one from Alberta.

These shows are "benched"—that is to say the dogs, all 200 of them, are on view from 9:30 in the morning to 9 in the evening (except for exercise periods). This year to simplify recognition of unfamiliar breeds each will have a label posted over the section of benching stating name of breed.

In addition to the labelling of the breeds another innovation this year is the pooling of resources of three clubs in order to make these shows of outstanding interest to the visitor. Each morning, afternoon and evening there will be two rings in operation for judging of the V.I.D.F.A. Championship show with Mrs. E. Joel of Islington, Ont., in ring 1 and

Good vision and good marks go hand in hand. A student with a vision problem can have trouble following work on the blackboard, and will hardly be inclined to read textbooks. This in turn will result in lack of interest, periodic inattention, and failure. Don't gamble on your child's welfare. Phone your vision specialist soon for an examination.

MEALS ON WHEELS WILL COME HERE IN FUTURE

By DORIS LEEDHAM HOBBS

Towards the end of World War Two, the organization, planned and worked by the domestic science students and public school girls, did wonderful work in bombed areas, and among displaced persons with their travelling soup kitchens. The same idea is run by the Red Cross, now, in country villages and towns, and manned by volunteers. This is called "Meals On Wheels", and carries delicious hot dinners, in specially heated containers, to elderly folk living alone.

Young matrons lend their time and cars to deliver these hot meals twice a week. The containers are stacked in the trunk, and off go these bringers of good cheer to the cottage homes. The cost of this Red Cross service being one shilling for two meals!

Here in Victoria, there may not be the need for this service, but it will come. Old people find food preparation a bother and tend to live on soft mushy food, to the ruin of their health. Meals on Wheels are a boon as well as being a health preservative.

CENTRE OF HOME

The hearth was the centre of the home from the days of our earliest ancestors, and even in Anglo-Saxon times, remains of hearths surrounded by stone benches and footrests speak of the importance of the fire and food preparation.

Only a few years ago, the kitchen used to be the focus of interest, the factory of the home. Now, cabinet kitchens take their place and electric gadgets have speeded up the cooking processes.

In Canada, which grows the best turnips in the world, I learn that in future there will be a new process which flakes turnips or powders it, so that the addition of boiling water will instantly produce mashed turnips. No longer any waste; no more hard peeling; everything tends to make food preparation easy and to package food from all over the world. This makes for diversity and increases interest, but not for the elderly or those living under conditions of small pensions.

The expense is the controlling factor. Here in Victoria, Chinese restaurants have long set the example of hot food delivered to the house: chicken in a basket; fish and chips can be delivered just by making a telephone call, but fried food is forbidden to some, and perhaps scarcely suitable for the aged.

No! Some one or some organization will, I feel sure, start this idea of home catering (and not for people in our members of parliament class of income!), but for those less well provided with this world's goods. It's an idea for someone.

NEW MINISTER HAS LONG LINK WITH AGRICULTURE

The Honorable Harry Hays, who became federal minister of agriculture on April 22, 1963, is an internationally known breeder, exporter and auctioneer of purebred livestock.

Mr. Hays has served as mayor of Calgary since 1959.

Born Christmas Day, 1909, at Carstairs, Alta., he later moved with his parents to a farm on the outskirts of Calgary.

His interest in the cattle export business began in 1932 when he became Alberta fieldman with the Holstein-Friesian Association of Alberta.

SHIPPED TO BRITAIN

A year later he became the first Canadian to ship purebred dairy cattle to Britain, and in following years, to several other countries.

In 1945, as president of Hays Farms Limited in Ontario, he became the first cattle exporter to ship by air. The cattle were flown from Toronto to Cuba.

Hays Farms Limited also the first in North America to export cattle to Spain and Italy.

HARRY HAYS

Prior to assuming office as mayor, Mr. Hays in an average year travelled some 35,000 miles, selling $2 million worth of livestock.

By the time he relinquished his interests in the Ontario farm to a brother, the farm — with shipments to 23 countries — was the biggest exporter of purebred livestock in North America.

SALE OF STARS

One of the world's outstanding livestock sales — the "Sale of Stars" at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto — was inaugurated by Mr. Hays.

In 1943 he purchased Hays and Company, the family farm business of which he was president. A few years later, however, he sold most of the property, retaining the farmhouse which has been his home since 1924.

Staff of Claremont senior secondary school, with grades 11 to 13, remains unchanged from last year but three new teachers have been added. The new teachers are Miss D. Bell, from Victoria, who will teach art, biology and mathematics; V. Lironi, a recent graduate of the School of Education at the University of B.C., for English and Social Studies, and G. Brown, from the Sooke school district, who will teach English and French. Principal and vice-principal of Claremont are J. W. Lott and M. F. Connor, respectively.

Approximately 350 students will be attending Claremont this year, chiefly from the Royal Oak, Cordova Bay, Saanichton and Brentwood areas.

IN AND Around Town

On the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Ramage, 10483 All Bay Road, are holding open house at their home from 2 o'clock to 5 on Sunday afternoon, and 7 to 9 in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ramage were married at All Saints' Church, Winnipeg, by Canon Heathcote. They spent the first eight years of their married life in that city, later moving to Toronto. Seventeen years ago they moved from Toronto to take up residence in their present home. They have two daughters, Mrs. (Desiree) Ibbetson, of Victoria, and Mrs. (Rosemary) Perry, of Vancouver; four grandsons, Brian, Craig, Neil and Ian, and one granddaughter, Mary Louise.

Mrs. I. Bell has returned to St. Mary's Priory after undergoing surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital. Cpl. and Mrs. E. S. England, nee Norma Taylor, and four children have returned to Canada after spending the last four years in West Germany. They are now living in Bagotville, Que., where Cpl. England has been posted.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Christian, Mills Road, returned to their home after holidaying at Quesnel Lake, Vancouver and other points on the mainland. They were accompanied by their daughter, Enid, and her friend, Faith Brackett, Wains Road. While away Mr. and Mrs. Christian visited their son, Lyn, at Marguerite, near Quesnel, where they had hoped to do some fishing. The real fishing was done here on the island by son Murray and friend.

Mrs. A. Derry and family, of Vancouver, have been guests at the home of Mrs. F. Derry, Beaufort Road. They are returning this week to the mainland, accompanied by Mr. Derry, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Clarke and three children, Gail, Garry and Brian, James White Blvd., have returned home after a camping trip up-island. They visited at Fields pool, Yellow Point; Malahat pool, Shawnigan Lake and other camping resorts.

Mrs. E. Taylor, Samuel Ave., spent last week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Magee, N. E. West, G. Milburn, Q. Russell, G. Kelly, Mrs. K. Agnew, D. C. MacKinnon as vice-principal and D. E. Breckenridge, principal.

North Saanich secondary school serves grade eight to 12 students on the north end of the Saanich Peninsula.

MOUNT NEWTON

Mount Newton junior secondary school students will meet two new teachers on Tuesday. Miss P. Lawrence, recently graduated from U.B.C., will instruct English and girls' physical education and J. Christian, from Cordova Bay, will take the Occupational One class.

Enrolment at Mount Newton is anticipated to be between 290 and 300 pupils this year, depending on the number of students in the occupational classes. Principal E. J. Dorran said there should be about 60 students in the occupational classes this year.

Other members of Mount Newton staff are C. C. Inkster, vice-principal, who will teach agriculture, science and math; I. Parfitt, social studies and music; C. Fourrier, French; Mrs. V. Wilkinson, girls' P.E. and English; Miss F. Peacock, home economics; L. Miller, English, social studies and art; F. Christensen, boys' P.E. and math; K. A. Buffam, commerce and math; R. Construction Completed at "Airport"

Control Tower And Terminal Now Completed At "Airport"

New control tower and terminal building have now been completed at Patricia Bay Airport. But they are not very practical. The buildings are the most recent addition to the Land of the Little People at Saanichton.

The two buildings are accurate miniature reproductions of the control tower and terminal presently under construction at the local airport. They were built from plans being used in the construction of the full-sized buildings by the owner of the miniature village, Thomas Karr and his assistant, Rene Patenaude. The "airport" at the Land of the Little People was completed only last week and is seen as an important addition to the village which includes a sawmill, island hotel, ski resort and chair lift, farm, and village complete with gas station, barber shop, school, stores, post office, church and residential area.

The Land of the Little People, opened earlier this summer by Mr. Karr, is located at the corner of indulged in, or scrapped, with ease. In this respect the impression of solidity and permanence is missed, but such a comparison perhaps is not really valid.

To be prosaic, I have more than once wondered why "the powers that be" have not provided more course, your island from the development angle is in its infancy, and picturesque planning can be of those essential retreats sometimes called "Rest Rooms," and made them just a little more obvious and convenient. One of these which I was relieved to find, proved to be almost palatial and a model of its kind, whereas another, not many miles from Victoria, I consider needs an immediate charge of dynamite!

During several picnic outings I have been impressed by the facilities provided. A meal laid out on solidly made tables, with the added convenience of benches and cooking arrangements proved to be much more enjoyable. No risk of being overrun by inquisitive insects, or wondering what might have been inadvertently swallowed with a sandwich.

Yes, from the comparatively little I have seen of your fascinating island I feel that although the weather may perhaps be occasionally a little below par—it's a paradise to the less fortunately situated.

Paradise Island Weather Is So Far Beyond Climate Of Britain

—New Aspect Works Two Ways

By TREVOR POWELL

I imagine that Vancouver Island has frequently been described as a "tourist's paradise," a hackneyed definition maybe, but to me, a true one.

Paying a flying visit here, which was both rapid and comfortable, I came from another island which some of you will remember as "the old country." This affords me the opportunity to make some comparisons, dubious though they may seem.

To begin with, if I had enjoyed the perfect weather at home that I have experienced so consistently here, it would have been regarded as vying on the phenomenal. To my mystification, one or two residents I have chatted with implied your present summer was rather "below par." For some years British summers have been fleeting, or almost non-existent. A fine spell of two or three weeks would be memorable, then Mother Nature in effect would say "Enough, this island race of sturdy people must not be softened," and proscribe "the mixture as before," which would be the signal for the inhabitants to fall back on their ancient philosophical defences.

ALTHOUGH IT HELPS

However, sunshine, although it helps, does not create a paradise, and at this point I speculate that one day the drifting pall of smoke which plagues a certain part of the pleasant city of Victoria will eventually be permanently dispersed. I realize some critical reader might promptly bawl "What about those awful British fogs and blunts?" A sharp point, somewhat blunted by the fact that in recent years smoke abatement regulations have been increasingly and strictly imposed, much to the improved health and temper of the natives.

I must add a little about the homes of your Vancouver Islanders. Their infinite charm and variety is a delight to the eye, and the varying styles a source of absorbing interest to one who is more familiar with a monotonous sameness.

HOLDS HIS OWN

Thanks to the great kindness of relatives and newly-made friends, I have been transported to many pleasant beaches and parks, haunts of rare beauty, where nature still holds her own against invading and profit-seeking man.

Before enthusiasm runs away with me I must say that the British Isles are probably unsurpassed for natural beauty. However, a large and increasing population, and fantastic road traffic, tends to make it more and more difficult to escape and enjoy our natural heritage. By comparison this is your great advantage, and one that should be jealously preserved.

MORE ABOUT SCHOOLS

Blenkinsop Road and access will be from Royal Oak Ave.

Delay in the Durrance Road school is anticipated as a result of difficulty in finding water.
Original hole drilled reached rock before water was found. Trustees were told that provincial surveys of the area indicate a layer of gravel in which water is found before striking rock. Two holes have now struck rock and drilling is proceeding through the rock.

Close To 600 Exhibits Make Pender Show Successful

The weatherman rolled away the fog blanket Saturday morning, Aug. 24, to turn out a fine afternoon for the Pender Islands' Agricultural Show, sponsored by the Women's Institute and the Farmers' Institute, and which proved to be an outstanding success in every way this year.

Held at the Hope Bay Hall, just under 600 exhibits of an exceptionally fine quality kept the judges busy, and over 200 patrons, 15 coming from Mayne Island by launch, enjoyed tea and cakes and took in the fair. Fruit, flowers, and vegetables, baked goods, canned fruit and vegetables, handicrafts and children's exhibits all made a colorful and exciting display. Prizes for cattle and sheep went to both Islands.

The fair was formally opened by Wm. MacGillivray, former deputy minister of agriculture. Judging the women's section was Miss Marjorie Bailey, home economics teacher of Vancouver and South Pender, while Mr. MacGillivray, deputy minister of agriculture, retired, judged the livestock. T. R. Ashley, of Victoria, passed out the credits for the fruit, flowers, and vegetables. Children's entries were judged by Miss Bailey and Mr. Ashley.

The A. H. Menzies Cup, trophy for the grand aggregate total of points, went to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Menzies; runners-up were Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Grimmer; and third place went to Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Kynaston.

Fair committee chairman is A. MacKinnon, and members consist of Mrs. H. G. Scott, Mrs. P. H. Grimmer, Mrs. B. T. Kynaston, Mrs. Derwent Taylor, G. B. Jennings, Donald Grimmer, Norris Amies, W. C. Mollison, and B. T. Kynaston. S. P. Corbett is secretary-treasurer. A complete list of prize winners will appear next week.

Wedding Unites Two Popular Salt Spring Island Families

Members of two well-known Salt Spring Island families were principals in last Saturday afternoon's wedding when Marguerite Anne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gear became the bride of Patrick Douglas Lee, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee, Burgoyne Valley, in a double-ringed ceremony performed by Archdeacon G. H. Holmes in St. George's Church, Ganges. White gladioli were used on the altar and in the church and Mrs. V. C. Best was at the organ.

The bride, who designed and fashioned her own wedding gown, made a striking picture as she entered the church on the arm of her father. White peau de soie, fashioned with full-length bell skirt extended to a slight train; the fitted bodice with lily-point sleeves was of scalloped border lace, finished at back and sleeves with tiny self-covered buttons. A cluster of organza roses held in place her four-tiered bouffant illusion net veil, worn over her face as she entered the church. Her cascade bouquet was of white carnations, stephanotis and trailing greenery.

ATTENDANTS

Similarly styled gowns, but in different shades of green, fashioned with bouffant bell-shaped skirts and fitted bodices of peau de soie with shot silk organza overlay, matching organza rose headress with whimsy veils and matching satin slippers were worn by the maid of honor, Miss Patricia Holinsky, Victoria, and bridesmaids, Miss Lynda Baker and Miss Roberta Akerman, who carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemum tinted gladioli.

Best man was Gilbert Mouat, Vancouver, and ushering were Colin Evans, Kimberley, and Leslie Fraser, Lytton.

About 300 guests attended a reception in Fulford Hall, decorated for the occasion with green and white streamers and baskets of flowers. The two-tier wedding cake, surmounted with tiny white doves, was flanked by tall white tapers in silver holders. The bridal toast was proposed by Laurie Mouat.

RECEIVING

Assisting in receiving were the bride's mother, Mrs. Gear, who chose a dress of silk far lace over taffeta, in mocha shade, with matching whimsy hat, beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Lee, in an Italian knit cherry red suit with white hat and accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For a honeymoon motoring in the interior of the province, the bride wore a boucle linen suit, in wheat shade, the lining of the box jacket matching the overblouse of flowered polished cotton, in tone, matching whimsy hat, malt shade accessories and corsage of yellow roses with brown velvet leaves.

On their return the young couple will reside in Victoria, where the groom is on the staff of the Bank of Montreal.

NINE APPLY FOR INSTRUCTORS' COURSE

Nine applications have been received by the Sidney Recreation Commission for the Victoria (Chinatown) Lions Club Water Safety program. The nine applicants from Sidney for the course will be screened by an instructor at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Crystal Garden swimming pool in Victoria. There are only vacancies for three or four suitable candidates from this district.

Recreation Commission officials are hoping that the Sidney candidates selected to undertake the comprehensive course will be able to assist in the commission-sponsored swimming classes in the village next summer.

This year, 74 youngsters from the Sidney area have taken instruction at the classes, with the beginners graduating last Friday and the juniors on Monday.

GREEN GEESSE AND YELLOW SWANS

If you see green geese and yellow swans in British Columbia this year, don't be alarmed, says the Department of Recreation and Conservation. Report them at once to your local Conservation Officer. Seventeen Whistling Swans were banded and dyed green in Utah last fall, while 81 Lesser Snow Geese were banded and dyed yellow in Oregon's Malheur Refuge at the same time. The projects were undertaken with the hope that the migration routes of these birds will be more fully understood. And so, if you see multi-colored waterfowl winging their way across your local skies, don't fret—simply call your Conservation Officer and tell him about it.

RETURN FROM HOLIDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kockott have just returned from holidays in Europe where they visited friends and relations in Germany and Switzerland. This was their first trip back to their homeland which they left 35 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Kockott have resided in Brentwood for the past 25 years and are very well known residents.

THAT IS THE LAW!

Record Of Court Case When Vaccination Caused Hurt

Leon Cardin vs. La Cite De Montreal et al (1961) S.C.R. 665 (Sup. Ct. of Can.)

The plaintiff's son when 5½ years old was taken to the defendant city health clinic to be vaccinated. As he had become frightened after the first vaccination, the mother asked the doctor not to proceed with the second vaccination, which was to be given by means of a hypodermic needle.

The doctor nevertheless proceeded to vaccinate the boy. The child resisted and despite the fact that he was held, he suddenly jerked his arm and the needle broke inside the arm.

The broken fragment of steel could not be removed and the arm was paralyzed for some time. Three operations to remove the fragment were unsuccessful, leaving permanent scars on the boy's arm.

The Trial Court (Quebec) held both the city-operated hospital and the doctor liable. The Provincial Court of Appeal, by a majority, reversed such decision and dismissed the action.

Held by the Supreme Court of Canada now reported, that while doctors could not be held liable for unforeseen accidents, where it is shown that the patient's injury was due to the doctor's failure to exercise the required degree of care, the burden of proving that the injury was brought on by some unforeseen cause, shifts to the doctor.

In the present case, it was not the movement of the arm, as claimed by the doctor, that caused the accident. The doctor knew that the boy was nervous and perhaps should not have vaccinated him at that time. Having decided to proceed, the doctor was negligent when he failed to make the necessary precaution to have the boy's arm completely immobilized. His injuries, including the scars, were the direct result of this negligence and both doctor and hospital liable.

BOOK TREATS OF RAILWAYS

"Shays On The Switchbacks," by Elwood White and David Wilkie. B.C. Railway Historical Association. 40 pp. $1.

In Britain nationalization of the railways ended the history of the line familiar to every Briton and every visitor there, the L.M.S. Railway.

This is the story of a smaller L.M.S., though very much nearer home, the Lenora-Mount Sicker Railway.

A narrow gauge line serving the Crofton smelter, the Lenora-Mount Sicker was discontinued in 1913. Until that time it was a significant part of the economy of the Duncan area.

This is the story of a small railway which was built out of nothing and which ultimately disappeared as the economy of the region changed.

It is an interesting story of a past aspect of the island economy. It is also an informative story of the island.

Written by two railway enthusiasts, it is particularly interesting to those who have made railways their hobby. The references to an earlier era here will appeal to everyone to whom the old smelter and the former island mines are a familiar memory.

The story is geared to the railway. It treats of much history while following the tracks—F.G.R.

JANITORIAL STAFFS ARE MOVED AROUND
